

Privoro CEO Mike Fong celebrates milestone with Forbes Technology Council
Forbes Technology Council Is an Invitation-Only Community for Executives Leading Their Industry

Chandler, AZ, March 12, 2020 — Mike Fong, Founder and CEO of Privoro, is celebrating his one-year anniversary as a member of the Forbes Technology Council, an invitation-only organization for senior leaders to publish original content, connect and excel. Privoro was founded on the belief that people should be able to trust and secure their electronic devices. As a security expert and technologist, Mike's articles uncover the hot topics in the cybersecurity space to provide consumers with the information they need to navigate this digital world.

"We are so pleased to have Mike Fong entering year two as a member of Forbes Technology Council," said Scott Gerber, founder and CEO of Forbes Councils. "Our mission with Forbes Councils is to bring together proven leaders from every industry, creating a curated, social capital-driven network that helps every member grow professionally and make an even greater impact on the business world, and Mike Fong is an important part of that community."

"Even before joining this community, I found the content produced for Forbes Technology Council to be helpful in my job as a CEO in the technology space," said Mike. "I'm excited that I now get to leverage this prestigious platform to share thought-provoking articles with a broader audience that may not normally be exposed to this kind of content."

Recognizing that smartphones are ground zero for data collection and increasingly targeted by sophisticated hackers, Mike decided for Privoro to initially focus on protecting these devices. Privoro has done this by pioneering the SafeCase, which provides first-of-its-kind mobile security hardware protections. Using his platform as founder and CEO of Privoro, it is important to Mike to continue to make consumers aware of the digital vulnerabilities and emerging solutions impacting their daily lives through his Forbes Technology Council articles.
